Have you noticed how most books for new dads are written by men? That's great when it comes to budgeting and building a crib, but not very helpful when confronted with that great unknown: the postpartum mother. This book, written by two mums who met in hospital the day their sons were born, helps new dads navigate the important relationships with themselves, their wives and their new baby in a time of massive change and unbridled emotions. It's all in the form of easy-to-read lists so you can pick up where you left off; we know how hard it is to do anything in one shot once you have a child! We discuss everything from shopping (there will be plenty) to sex (there will be none) to mothers-in-law, and hemorrhoids (there will be both, or if you are lucky, just one). We don't have all the answers but we guarantee you'll get brownie points for just asking the question! Here are ten reasons to read this book: <http://youtu.be/YGJcPSzXLeA>
